

All Ends, Close My Eyes

I never wanted you to, no
You said you'd leave but you never did This time you meant the words you said and I'll be the one standing with regrets Can't stand your leaving
I turn around...
Close my eyes, close my eyes cause I see your face everywhere
Would you forget the day that we met Close my eyes, I close my eyes
cause I see your face everywhere
Would you forget I have to move on If you had known that I'd found out would you still look at me with a smile or would you meet my eyes with shame you'll be the one living with the pain Give up too easy
I turn around...
I swear that somehow I'll get through this then I won't be burdened no more
