

All Ends, Just A Friend

Who am I to argue
I can't change the color of my eyes
Do we really need this oh please just let me go I wish that you would understand I'm not what your looking for
I want to feel but my heart I gave away
you will heal and your love will never die
I could never say this cause to you I'm just a friend
You say you'll always love me, This has to end I wish that you would understand I'm not what your looking for
we tried this so many times now it's time to let it go
I want to feel but my heart I gave away
you will heal and your love will never die
I wish that you would understand I'm not what your looking for
we tried this so many times now it's time to let it go
I want to feel but my heart I gave away
you will heal and your love will never die
I want to feel but my heart I gave away
you will heal and your love will never die
Who am I to argue
I can't change the color of my eyes
