

All Out War, Crucial Times In Existence

Once was a day in the existence of man when the hand of peace reigned throughout the land, but through the greed of leaders right to rule, do what they want, the right of others, how soon they are forgot, crucial times in the age of hate, crucial times in the age of mankind, when hate and fear plague our minds quest for power seek to control what will come next for sure no one knows, constantly condemned to fall to sin, we have to fight if we are to win, take and take we ignore the pain while we seek to achieve our own gains, witness to a world torn apart, hope grows dim as we remain in the dark, caught in a struggle within our minds, search for the truth what will we find, man must face the struggle within in a quest for power, no one wins, learn the lessons from the past, we must change our ways to last, suffering with no way out, no one on top no one wins, trapped, disease of life, see it all happening again, constant scorn on this earth, witness to man's demise, injustice to those of new birth, birth of the original sin creates the downfall of man, time as days go by, who will achieve the upper hand, neglect a world gone by but people ignore all this pain, seeking a painless way out as no one owns up to the blame.
