

All The Day Holiday, Cities

There is so much more than you think.
Meanings rooted in the trees,
pulsing through the branches,
dispersing through the leaves.
It's a beauty that will surely bring you to your knees.
From city to city it runs, it sprints, it leaps
through everything, through everything.
Reds and yellows and blues and greens,
colours paint the sky. It's such a well done sky.
There is so much more than you think.
Meanings rooted in the trees.
Oh it's pulsing through the branches,
dispersing through the leaves,
it's a beauty that will surely bring you to your knees.
But I'm weak and you're so strong.
Let's not forget that I am weak and you are strong,
so strong. Let's not forget.
Yeah it's from city to city.
It runs, it springs, it leaps through everything,
through everything, through everything.
