All Together Separate, The River

Dry thoughts of a better day My hope like stones in the dust lay Fast pace to escape My search for living water Cool breeze on the water top Smooth shine on a silver rock Lord, please let Your current see Through to the inside Lose myself Cover me over Find my life Down at the river Cut deep into shallow ground Through me You can flow now Winding to the blue sea Off in the distance Lose myself Cover me over Find my life Down at the river Lose myself Cover me over Find my life Down at the river And Sundays always come around And Sundays always come around (Down at the river) And Sundays always come around And Sundays always come around (Down at the river) Sundays always come around (Down at the river) And Sundays always come around (Down at the river) And Sundays always come around (Down at the river)

And Sundays always come around
