Allan Gary, Man To Man

Allan Gary Alright Guy Man To Man You're throwin' around a lot of serious accusations Ain't too hard to tell what you're insinuatin' You think I'm the one who stole her away If not for me she'd still be yours today We're both men here so why play games Why don't we call a spade a spade

Man to man Tell me the truth, tell me Were you ever there when she needed you Man to man Look me in the eye, tell me If you really loved her Why'd you make her cry Man to man Who cheated who You're the one to blame Tell me it ain't true Man to man Man to man

Well you think all your anger is justified Me, I think, it's just your wounded pride What did you really think she was gonna do She's a real woman, not a doormat for you You want her back, but it's too late Why don't we just cut to the chase

Man to man Tell me the truth, tell me Were you ever there when she needed you Man to man Look me in the eye, tell me If you really loved her Why'd you make her cry Man to man Who cheated who You're the one to blame Tell me it ain't true Man to man
