

Allie Moss, Days I Regret

It kills me to say it, but these are the days I regret
Never having said what should've been said
While I had the time, while you were still mine
It pains me to admit, but these are the times I regret
Never having said what could've been said
While I had your ear, while you were still near Why didn't I speak?
Why didn't I tell you all you mean to me?
Why didn't I tell you?
Why didn't I tell you?
While I had the time
While I had your ear
While I had your heart
Before we were apart
It kills me to say it, but these are the days I regret