

Allison Moorer, When Will You Ever Come Down

Joyrides for the pain
Sparkling in your brain
Nothing's there, just a haze
Swallowing up your days
When will you ever come down?
When will you ever come down?
All you have is what you need
All you make are enemies
Can't believe what went wrong
Why you've been gone so long?
When will you ever come down?
When will you ever come down?
Who is the monster in the mirror
With the sorry eyes?
You've never seen it any clearer
And you're terrified
Circling 'round and 'round
Looking for the lost and found
Dragon's teeth, you have sown
Make it hard to come back home
When will you ever come down?
When will you ever come down?
When will you ever come down?
When will you ever come down?
