

Allison Mose, I Don't Want Much

Allison Mose

Tell Me Something: The Songs Of Mose Allison

I Don't Want Much

I don't want much in this world

It's the simple things I treasure

'Till I die I would get by on fame, riches and sensual pleasure

I don't ask much in this life

No special consideration

Just treat me like His Majesty

Of a friendly OPEC nation

Some people

Just don't know when to stop

Some people

Just won't quit until they reach the top

But I'm so easy going

I'd make my way through life

On love and understanding

From a rich and beautiful wife

Some people

Just never seem to get enough

Some people

Want salvation, paradise and all that stuff

But I'm so easy going

Don't even keep the score

All I want is plenty, but I will take more

If you ask me

I will take more

Say please

And I will

Take more