

Allister, Moper

it's late at night
And all i can think about is
How i went to work and just sat around
And wasted my whole day.
Time goes by
And soon we forget
About the way we looked, the dumb things that mattered
As our lives just slipped away

I mope around like there's nothing to do
Another day and i'm looking for something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way)
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away).
Something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way)
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away....)

It's late at night
And all i can think about is
How i went to work and just sat around
And wasted my whole day.
Time goes by and soon we forget about
The way we looked, the dumb things that mattered
As our lives just slipped away.

I mope around like there's nothing to do
Another day and i'm looking for something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way)
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away)
Something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way)
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away)
I'm looking for something new...

I'm looking for something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way).
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away)
Something new
(i can't understand why i'm feeling this way)
Something new
(memories come, but they just fade away).