

Allrise, Kfm

So inexpressible that it's inescapable
How a faceless presence renders me incapable
I'd be in a car on Sunset Boulevard
Then without warning
Phantom forces slash my heart
And they blast my brain apart
Hard water fills these eyes to drain
Pain, pain, pain
Pumps in seizing veins
But today
Help's on the way
Connection cut, interface
Pick up the line
The network takes too much time
To lock in the trace
I'll reinstall firewall protection brainwaves
Emancipation for unconscious slaves
All you unconscious slaves
Columns after rows
Farther than the eye goes
They just line us up and pluck the one that grows
Now we're modified
They've implanted their seeds inside
Pixeled screens for eyes
And they blast my brain apart
Hard water fills these eyes to drain
Pain, pain, pain
Pumps in seizing veins
But today
Help's on the way
Connection cut, interface
Pickup the line
The network takes too much time
To lock in the trace
I'll reinstall firewall protection brainwaves
Emancipation for unconscious slaves
All you unconscious slaves
You're not slaves
I won't be a slave
