Holding You

Everyone has words to say

And they make me strong

Hear the sound

Won't you take my hand

Just a smile and your embrace

I can do no wrong

Turn around say you understand

Holding you I fear no evil

I can feel the love inside you

Holding you holding you loving you

Holding you could be so easy

I can feel your arms around me

Holding you holding you loving you

When the daylight fades away

And I'm on my way

Fantasise a world without a storm

Can we really feel the way people say we do

Won't you find you're here to keep me warm

Holding you could be so easy

I can feel your arms around me

Holding you holding you loving you

Holding you could be so easy

I can feel your arms around me

Holding you holding you loving you
