

Almadrava, Now you can reach the sky

The boy is standing in front of the sea, watching the birds fighting gravity, mum sits beside with tears in her eyes, she cries.

The kid doesnt see her, his minds not there, hes flying with the seabirds all the way to his dad.
In fantasy land, if you really wish, you can...

Listen to the wind blow,
and then close your eyes,
open your arms and you will feel ,how you fly.

Now you can reach the sky,
you can fly like a seagull, you only have to close your eyes and you will touch the sky.

A fishermans life is hard for a man and even harder for a boy to understand why dad has to go again and again for month.

But imagination is a powerful friend, he sees mama crying and goes to take her hand, come with me now,
Ill guide you to visit dad.

Listen to the wind blow,
and then close your eyes,
open your arms and you will feel ,how you fly.

Now you can reach the sky,
you can fly like a seagull,
you only have to close your eyes
and you will touch the sky.