

Alphaville, Golden Feeling

(Gold-Lloyd-Echolette)

Though this place is so crowded
You feel so alone
'cause you're eye to eye with him
And you know he will take you
He's got nothing to lose
And there's no way for you to win
Desperados in love
Won't kill this sweet dove
For nuggets of fleeting bliss
C'mon, c'mon you can't escape
The bleeding bullet of a kiss
Here comes that golden feeling
It's shining in your eyes
We're always going on and on
Right from that day they start to shine

It's a new situation
The start of a game,
You've already won the prize
He's a lunatic dancer
Who's not aware
That he's skating on thin ice
There's no turning back
No time for regrets
You should've known better, though
Another chance
To fall in love
Another chance
To turn you on
Another chance
To turn you on
Here comes that golden feeling
It's shining in your eyes
We're always going on and on
Right from that day
They start to shine
