

Alphaville, Lies

Baby, baby
Ooooh, what do I do?
Playing my tune for you
Just to get you in the mood
Everybody's going to Hollywood
Aah, you're driving me mad
But I'm smiling to the crowd instead
A lot of money is at stake, this is a hit and that's a fake

This is what you mean to me
This is what they all should see
Make a make up in a foolish style
Telling the truth by making a big lie

When I come, I come but nothing's at ease
Breaking up the whole is a modern disease
Maybe you think tomorrow's just a joke
It's a joke after joke after joke after joke

My loooove
Everything's an interview
And nothing's really new
And everybody's looking for clues and you know what to do with a clue
My love
Get ready for the show
They're waiting and they will never go oh oh
This night is just a go...
And it's only for show

Dig that deal and be a millionaire,
Drinking cocktails in the stratosphere,
Getting jet lagged with my business friends,
In these supersonic wonderlands

There's a shadow on the graphic display,
First he's smiling then he's fading away
Maybe he thinks tomorrow's just a joke
It's a joke after joke after joke after joke

My loooove
Everything's an interview
And nothing's really new
And everybody's looking for clues and you know what to do with a clue
My love
Get ready for the show
They're waiting and they will never go oh oh
This night is just a go...
And it's only for show

My love
Everything's an interview
And nothing's really new
And everybody's looking for clues and you know what to do with a clue
My love
This night is just a go...
Get ready, get ready, get ready
Get ready, get ready, get ready, get ready

Yeah
Get ready for the show!!
