

Alter Bridge, Dead Among The Living

Here you are, a broken weary soul
With no place left to go
Godforsaken, I can't watch this anymore

In the wake
Dead among the living

When will you realize and see the light?
You're meant for so much more
You're like the dead among the living

So tell me what it is you fail to see
Or is this all on me?
You are so much more than who you choose to be

In the wake
Dead among the living

When will you realize and see the light?
You're meant for so much more
You're like the dead among the living

In spite of the waiting
I hold out that you might just take control
Never forsaking
For you might just wake up to let us know

You're coming home

Here you are, a broken weary soul
No place left to go
Godforsaken, I can't watch this anymore

When will you realize and see the light?
You're meant for so much more
You're like the dead among the living
