

Alton Ellis, Willow Tree

They say that once the tear has fallen, the willow cries eternally cry not for me, my willow tree don't shed your tears eternally cause I have found the love I've searched for I need your tears no more, no more

So tell where, my weeping willow and if we'll ever meet again
cry not for me, my willow tree
don't shed your tears eternally
I need your tears no more, no more

They say the willow cries for someone and that's when someone's heart is broken cry not for me, my willow tree
cause I have found the love I've searched for
I need your tears no more, no more
