

Aly & A.J., Never Far Behind

I know this really isn't you
I know your heart is somewhere else
And I'll do anything I can
To help you break out of this spell
I see you following your crowd
I know you're trying to fit in
But if you're gonna find yourself
You gotta start from deep, deep within
Hold on to what you believe
I will always be your friend
I know who you are inside
I am with you till the end
Never far behind
I am standing in the distance
You can take your time
And I will be here waiting
Never far behind, yeah
Never far behind
I am sending you a message
Don't ever think that it's too late
When you care about someone
There is always room for change
You're allowed to make mistakes
It's a part of every life
I don't see you any different
The truth is shining in your eyes
Hold on to what you believe
I will always be your friend
I know who you are inside
I am with you till the end
Never far behind
I am standing in the distance
You can take your time
And I will be here waiting
Never far behind, yeah
Never far behind
You can take your time
And I know
With all my heart
I will always be your friend
I know who you are inside
I am with you till the end
Never far behind
I am standing in the distance
You can take your time
And I will be there waiting, waiting by my side
God is never far behind
I am sending you a message
