

Aly & A.J., No One

I am moving through the crowd
Trying to find myself
I feel like a guitar that's never played
Will someone strum away?
And I ask myself, who do I wanna be?
Do I wanna throw away the key?
And invent a whole new me and I tell myself
No one, no one, don't wanna be
No one, but me
You are moving through the crowd
Trying to find yourself
Feelin' like a doll left on a shelf
Will someone take you down?
And you ask yourself, who do I wanna be?
Do I wanna throw away the key?
And invent a whole new me, gotta tell yourself
No one, no one, don't wanna be
No one, but me
Your life plays out on the shadows of the wall
You turn the light on to erase it all
You wonder what's it's like to not feel worthless
So open all the blinds and all the curtains
No one, no one, don't wanna be
No one, but me
We are moving through the crowd
