

Amadeus, Givin'up

I wanna leave and breath no more
I'm gonna burn and now you can ignore
That once I had been here
So look inside my heart and see
That even hope has left me
Without a soul and without a dream
It's so hard to be me
I can just forsake everything (forsake everything)
Thinking that all is gone
(All is gone...)
And I feel so lonely here
The night is fading just as my life
Now the darkness shines my way
Hold my hand it's my last breath!
Without a soul and without a dream
It's so hard to be me
I can just forget everything (forget everything)
Thinking that all is gone
(All is gone...)
Wish I could sleep forever
So I could dream once again
