

Amadeus, The Power

Clouds and despair surround it
Justice and judgement are the base of its throne
Before him its going a fire
That consumes them about the enemy
All the people see its glory
Be confused
Those that glory of idols
Everybody drops in your presence
With the power of the metal
Exult before you
Thats a king
Its lightnings illuminate the world
The earth see them and it trembles
You are set up they melt as wax
The skies announce the notice
All the people see its glory
Be confused
Those that glory of idols
Everybody drops in your presence
And all the people see its glory
Be confused
Those that glory of idols
Everybody drops in your presence
And all the people see its glory
Be confused
With the power of the metal
Exult before you
Thats a king
