

Amanda Stott, Lift You Up

When the world is crashing down around you
And no one understands,
He will lift you up.
When you feel no arms of love surround you
And you're all alone inside,
He will be your guide.
He will lift you up, close to the heavens
Feel His embrace rushing down like the rain
Turn up your face and thank your Heavenly Father
For He will lift you up
'Cause He feels the pain you feel
And he longs to bear it for you
His love will soon reveal the plans He has in store for you
He will lift you up, close to the heavens
Feel His embrace rushing down like the rain
Turn up your face and thank your Heavenly Father
For He will lift you up
He will lift you up, close to the heavens
Feel His embrace rushing down like the rain
Turn up your face and thank your Heavenly Father
For He will lift you up
For He will lift you up
