Amaran, Seven Long Years [Japanese Bonus Tra

Amaran
Pristine In Bondage
Seven Long Years [Japanese Bonus Track]
My revolution dies
straight from the wound to the soil
Didn't need long enough to be named
Did need long enough to be mourned

Shadow mirror on the wall looking at my reflection Seven long years to endure to my resurrection If I'd sail the seven sees would you still be here for me When I found my way back home

My execution fails left to the chariots of the switch Burning the flesh and staging more like a phoenix I've opened your throne

Father carry her for me For I lack of empathy
