

Amazing Transparent Man, I'm A Badass

I had a dream that I was walkin' by your side.
The hate was gone I feel inside.
The truth I know is that I can't dwell in the past.
I'll free you from your chains at last.

I never think about the way things used to be,
I'm way to busy kickin' ass.
But late at night when I am, in my bed all snug and tight,
I guess I kinda sorta want to miss you.

You say your love is gone you're movin' on.
But I can't be so quick to choose.
As follows perfect with the story my life.
No matter what i pick i lose.

I never think about the way things used to be,
I'm way to busy kickin' ass.
But late at night when I am, in my bed all snug and tight,
I guess I kinda sorta want to miss you.

I know that time can't heal the wounds I've made.
The deed is done the price I've paid.
My life is moving really fast, but that's not bad.
It leaves no time for getting sad.

I never think about the way things used to be,
I'm way to busy kickin' ass.
But late at night when I am, in my bed all snug and tight,
I guess I kinda sorta want to miss you.

move on...
