

Ambuscade Undeclinable, About Me

This is your one and only chance to really get to know me well
And automatically take me more seriously

I know I tried to deny what they're saying about me
And I guess that it's all true, though I never wanted it to
To work against me this way, they openly condemn me
It's just the way that things go, so I hereby declare

Listen to me carefully, there's something you should know about me
I don't care about other people

I doesn't necessarily mean that I am an asshole
Though to describe my personality, we're getting awfully close
I cover up the truth, the words that I seek are used to find excuses
For the pain that I cause, for the cause of my own good

Listen to me carefully, there's something you should know about me
I don't care about other people

Don't fear what you're about to hear, cold words as they pass my lips
I'm not who I wanna be, I am on an ego trip
Really not who I wanna be, I am on, on an ego trip
