

Amel Larrieux, No One Else

Swift As A Windsong
You Sang The Music Of An Honest Bird
I Waited For Some Contradiction
The Truth Was Ringin' In Your Every Word

And Every Moment Since Then
The One Thing I Can Tell
Is That I Belong With You
And No One Else

Lay Down Those Heavy Burdens
On The Banks Of This River Deep
Know That Every Piece Of Your Past
Is Always Some Place Safe With Me

And There's No Room For Judgement
I Want You As Yourself
'cuz I Belong With You
And No One Else

We Have Both Been Broken
Bent Into Painful Shapes
And Almost Let Those Old Fears
Carry Over And Get In Our Way

Every Struggle Just Makes
Our Love Get Stronger
Than It Was Yesterday

So Here We Are Now
Ain't It Lucky We Survived It All
Searching For Self In Separate Rivers
Ending Up In The Same Waterfall

And When We're Gray And Wiser
The Story I Will Tell
Is That I Belong With You
And No One, No One Else
I Belong, I Belong With You
And No, No, No, No One Else
I Belong With You
And No One, And No One Else