

American Hi-Fi, This Is The Sound

Empty hearts can fill an empty room
Because of you
The sky above remaining clear and blue
Its nothing new
The radio keeps playing static of favorite songs
Why does everyone keep on bringing me back to you?

And this is the sound
Of the broken down
And this is the last train home
The home beyond your ground
And this is the fall
Dont catch me if I fall
Just catch me when I fall
Back to the ground

Lightning crashes all around me now
I hear its sound
Broken wings can carry us
To where people stare
Fall asleep against the window pane
Outside the rain covers everyone
Now were never gonna see the sun

And this is the sound
Of the broken down
And this is the last train home
The home beyond your ground
And this is the fall
Dont catch me if I fall
Just catch me when I fall
Dont catch me if I fall
Back to the ground

If you wanted to stay
Ill have you any day
And if you wanted to stay
Ill have you any way

And this is the sound
Of the broken down
And this is the last train home
The home beyond your ground
And this is the fall
Dont catch me if I fall
Just catch me when I fall
Back to the ground

This is the sound
And this is the fall
Dont catch me if I fall
Just catch me when I fall
