

American Steel, Latchkey Kid

see the rollers rolling up they put me in the handcuffs i didn't do nothing wrong just trying to get along so don't smile your eyes at me cuz it don't mean shit to a latchkey kid hard knocks have made me hard as a rock don't want to let it in my heart but its going to y head latchkey kid introverted better off dead where does our childhood go we grew up before we every really grew sometimes i want to sweep down and save you we gotta make our own mistakes but i can't watch you fucking up i can still remember that smiling face that made not me feel so out of place latchkey kid better off dead
