

Amie Miriello, Drifter

it is not the way i can save when you r by my side it is not way if you face every stright sigh it is not the way someone reaches me like you did i can` t let go every single time that we kiss yeah it is why you are away it is struggle just for us to stay the same now i feel you come back home like a drifter finding a shelter in desert
now i feel you come back home yeah and i know
u were never really gone it is not the way you ignore me when i am too proud it is not the way let you mark me when let you lie no it is not the way let you comfort me when i cry no it is not the way let you came back into my life who let it was why you were away make me wonder wither everything are changed now that i feel you come back home
when we do the best we can cuz there is no choice choose this is something we can leave oh no but tonight i feel you come back home like a drifter finding shelter in desire
and i know u were never really gone
