

Amila Zazu, Our story

I looked at you and you seemed so alone very deep inside you took my hand and then it was clear that we feel the same the moon was watching us we just didnt want to hide we looked straight in his eyes I thought I knew the sky still another one you showed me I cant describe the way you make me feel you gave me wings I fly no one knows
they will never know what the story is nobody does
they wont get to know till the end of time

REFREN:

we hide every single day
that is why anybody cant say what happened to you and me only us in this story you looked at me and I seemed so alone very deep inside I took your hand and now it is clear that we feel the same magic was born in us we felt like the angels flying below the sky we couldnt live apart isnt it the sign we wanted?
I just cant help myself from telling you how I miss you when youre not around
