Amorphis, Sampo

Sparks sent flying, my mind thundering
The room of my heart flashing to the sky
The flaring of fumes fill my senses
Pervade this room and this space
[Chorus:]
The days they blend into the nights
The moon, the sun unite
Order of stars expires
A wonder is born
I listen and aim, I observe
I use all the forces and let it transpire
I confront the darkness absolute
And blinding, dazzling brilliance
(2x)

From roaring flames the shapes emerge Come forth they do with vile charms Their poisoned core hides in beauty But I see and perceive their deceit, I see Into the blaze I shove them back To lose their forms to the hungry fire Again and yet again I start my work anew Again and again I start my work again (2x) A wonder is born
