

Amos Lee, Souther Girl

farewell my sweet well the time that was comin the road has begun to move beneath my feet good things come to an end well i hope through the pain, the heartache and strain we can still remain friends somethin bout a southern girl make me feel right in a mississippi mornin she's an angel in flight in a blink of an eye she'll be out of your sight

you're a soft melody well i swear that i heard from a lost mockingbird stuck up in a tree we got a lot goin on even though i'm not here please don't shed any tears for me day when i'm gone i never meant to leave you lonely, it was only in your mind girl, i never meant to leave you lonely, it was only a matter of time
