

Amos Tori, Doughnut Song

Amos Tori
Boys For Pele
Doughnut Song

had me a trick and a kick and your message well you'll never gain weight from a doughnut hole then thought that I could decipher your message there's no one here dear no one at all and if I'm wasting all your time

this time maybe you never learned to take and if I'm hanging on to your shade I guess I'm way beyond the pale and southern men can grow gold can grow perty

blood can be perty
like a delicate man copper to steel in a hinge that is faltered that let's you in let's you in let's you in something's just keeping you numb you told me last night you were a sun now with your very own devoted satellite happy for you and I am sure that I hate you two sons too many too many able fires

and if I'm wasting all your time
this time
I think you never learned to take
and if I'm hanging on to your shade
