

Ampop, Love Song

Our live is set,
a gamble, a pointed gun
At the end of the day
the shadow hides the sun
No matter how I try to bend my fate

All of a sudden I met you I felt as reborn and we had the time of our lives together as one
But when you got ill
you were taken away
now you are gone

I like to choose and decide
I have so much to say But, someone so blind above has chosen my way
No matter how I try to bend my fate

Will I meet someone like you?

I look around me
My mind is falling apart Thinking about you really brakes my heart
No matter how I try to let it go
