

Amy Grant, Carry You

Lay down your burdens
And I will carry you
I will carry you my child
Cause I can walk on water
Calm a restless sea
I've done a thousand things, you've never done
I'm here watching
While you struggle on your own
Call my name, I'll come
Lay down your burdens
And I will carry you
I will carry you my child
I give vision to the blind
I can raise the dead
I've seen a darker side of hell
And I've returned
I've seen these sleepless nights
I've watched every tear you cry
I know some lessons hurt to learn
Lay down your burdens
I will carry you
I will carry you, my child
