

Amy Grant, Too Late (Live)

Well, it's too late for walkin' in the middle
Too late to try
And it's too late for sittin' in the balance
No more middle line
Oh, it's too late for walkin' on fences
Time to choose your side
And it's too late for flirtin' with the darkness
Make up your mind
Oh, the time has come for makin' a decision
And you say, you've found the light
But the talk is cheap when I see the way you're livin'
Walkin' in the night
'Cause it's too late for walkin' in the middle
Too late to try
And it's too late for sittin' in the balance
No more middle line
Oh, oh, it's too late
You know that it's too late for thinkin'
You can walk on the line
Better get wise
You may think, you can live by your feelings
Different every night
But an emotional religion will crumble at our feet
When we're made to stand and fight
'Cause it's too late for walkin' on fences
Time to choose you side
And it's too late for flirtin' with the darkness
Please make up your mind
Oh, oh, oh it's too late
Don't you know that it's too late for thinkin'
You can walk on that line?
Better get wise
Oh, it's too late for walkin' in the middle
Too late to try
And it's too late for sittin' in the balance
No more middle line
Oh, it's too late for walkin' on fences
Time to choose your side
And it's too late for flirtin' with the darkness
Please make up your mind
And it's too late for walkin' in the middle
Too late to try
And it's too late for sittin' in the balance
No more middle line
Oh, it's too late for walkin' on fences
Time to choose your side
And it's too late for flirtin' with the darkness
Please make up your mind
Too late for walkin' in the middle
Too late to try
And it's too late for flirtin' with the darkness
Please make up your mind
