

Amy Macdonald, Somebody New

I never knew you before
I never seen that sweet smile
Or those eyes that dazzled from about a mile away
I never smelt that sweet scent
That followed you everywhere you went
Or even had the chance to call you mine

Now I look back in regret
At all the missed hours I spent
Watching my life just pass me by
Now your with somebody new and there's nothing I can do
Just sit back and watch you smile.
Smile
Watch you smile
Smile

It's like everywhere I go
I know your always gonna be there
But you don't see me there
And As I try to walk by you all you ever seem to do
Is move away from there

Now I look back in regret
At all the missed hours I spent
Watching my life just pass me by
Now your with somebody new
and there's nothing I can do
Just sit back and watch you smile.
Smile
Watch you smile
Smile
Watch you smile

Now I look back in regret
At all the missed hours I spent
Watching my life just pass me by
Now your with somebody new
and there's nothing I can do
Just sit back and watch you smile.
Smile
Watch you smile
Smile
Watch you smile
