

Amy Macdonald, Wish For Something More

Oh the sun is shining far too bright
For it to still be night
Oh the air feels so cold, so cold and old
How can it be light?
Lets take a walk outside
See the world through teach others eyes
I wish I was your only one
I think youre beautiful but your hair is a mess
And your shoes are untied but thats what I love best
And I, I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way
I wish for long lingering glances
Fairy tale romances every single day
And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day
But I wish for something, wish for something more
Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more
Now the grass is so green, but I cant see anything past your eyes
Im fixated on your smile; your cherry lips make life worth while
Im thinking these things while Im trying to say
This lie gets in my way, every single day
And I, I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way
I wish for long lingering glances
Fairy tale romances every single day
And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day
But I wish for something, wish for something more
Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more
Now this sun is fading, now the rain is coming down
And Im looking at your face and youre looking at the ground
I see diamonds in your dreams, I see pearls around your neck,
I see everything thats beautiful, oh everything thats beautiful
I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way
I wish for long lingering glances
Fairy tale romances every single day
And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day
But I wish for something, wish for something more
Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more
