Amy Macdonald, Wish For Something More

Oh the sun is shining far too bright

For it to still be night

Oh the air feels so cold, so cold and old

How can it be light?

Lets take a walk outside

See the world through teach others eyes

I wish I was your only one

I think youre beautiful but your hair is a mess

And your shoes are untied but thats what I love best

And I, I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way

I wish for long lingering glances

Fairy tale romances every single day

And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day

But I wish for something, wish for something more

Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more

Now the grass is so green, but I cant see anything past your eyes

Im fixated on your smile; your cherry lips make life worth while

Im thinking these things while Im trying to say

This lie gets in my way, every single day

And I, I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way

I wish for long lingering glances

Fairy tale romances every single day

And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day

But I wish for something, wish for something more

Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more

Now this sun is fading, now the rain is coming down

And Im looking at your face and youre looking at the ground

I see diamonds in your dreams, I see pearls around your neck,

I see everything thats beautiful, oh everything thats beautiful

I wish I was the one, your one and only sun and you looked at me that way

I wish for long lingering glances

Fairy tale romances every single day

And you look at me and say Im your best friend every day

But I wish for something, wish for something more

Oh I love you like a friend, but lets not pretend how I wish for something, wish for something more
