</lyrics>

When I was in my birthday suit, they wouldn't leave me alone, couldn't get enough of me
When I started wearing clothes, their love for me faded, faded away fast

Learned how to make it in this world, but I seem to be losing something important
Like feelings of wanting to ride the clouds while I gaze at the sky

I pushed hard and made my way out of Mom, grasping happiness in my fists
The minute I opened my hands, happiness escaped and was destroyed

(baby)

Wont grow up I want to love Give me more of that sweet milk
Want some toys Won't be outdone by anyone Baby King on a Porsche
Don't have anything now But in the end, I'll be the one with everything
It was all a strategy A planned offense I am forever, Baby Baby King

Which toy should I play with? Don't you think these are much more realistic than what grownups give Society made up worthless masses like cigarette smoke

Though my path may include hardships to come in the future
I've made my decision and will remain on course

(baby)

Overflowing rumors and information rule society
I won't be swayed, the true answer's what important Baby King
No ruler is completely accurate, who cares if you're off by a millimetre
Loosen up and have some fun? You too, Baby Baby King

I pushed hard and made my way out of Mom, grasping happiness in my fists
The minute I opened my hands, happiness escaped and was destroyed
Though my path may include hardships to come in the future
I've made my decision and will remain on course

(baby)

Overflowing rumors and information rule society
I won't be swayed, the true answer's what important Baby King

No ruler is completely accurate, who cares if you're off by a millimetre
Loosen up and have some fun? You too, Baby Baby King

Temptations will at times, destroy people
But I will forever remain Baby King
