

Ana Johnsson, Now it's gone

Anything but empty words
Give it to me where it hurts
Anything just tell me something true
Dont take me for some dumb-ass flirt
See this girl she knows her worth Whatever thing we never had is trough
Im no longer blinded
By stories and lies
Clearly now I see
Right through your disguise
This is how I see it
its time to move on
You had your chance and blew it
And now its gone, now its gone
This time I really mean it
Alone Ill be strong
How does it feel to lose this?
Now it gone, now its gone
I know I cant go on this way
Too much time has gone to waste
I gave my all and ended up with you
For sure you will regret this day
Im not the kind of girl you play
Sorry but theres nothing you can do
Dont try to fight it
Im cutting all ties
You dont have to like it
Again I will rise
This is how I see it
Its time to move on
You had your chance and blew it
