

Ana Johnston, Coming Out Strong

It's strange how everything changed
Through your eyes look others we're feeling
You've tried
You can't see the world the same
It's cold falling down
Like a shadow on the ground
Follow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter
Than you've been
Come with me I won't let you fall apart
Not again
And it's been so long
Just barely holding on
We're coming out strong
Hey... You're smiling again
Leave the scars the future is waiting
You've tried
But you can't escape yourself
It's cold coming down
Like a shadow in the crowd
Follow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter
Than you've been
Come with me I won't let you fall apart
Not again
And it's been so long
Just barely holding on
We're coming out strong
We're coming out strong
Don't you let yourself down?
Just through all that all shit out
It's the rest of your life
And it's starting there
Follow me and I'll take you some place lighter
Than you've been
Come with me I won't let you fall apart
Not never again
And it's been so long
Just barely holding on
Follow me
Follow me and I'll take you somewhere lighter
Than you've been
Come with me I won't let you fall apart
Never again
And it's been so long
Just barely holding on
We're coming out strong
We'll be coming out strong
Follow me We'll be coming out strong
Been so long
Follow me We'll be coming out strong
