

Anam Cara, Clenched Fists of Desperation

i've seen that twitch in your eye before you can't push everyone away i have these words to give you this is my advice alone is no way to go burning bridges to set us apart i know you need this its tugging at your heart are you afraid to let me in afraid together that we may win we've come too far now we cant stop we'll lay our stake at the mountain top tonight the tides will turn inside of us a fire burns in our hearts a fire still burns when i said forever friend i meant it
