

Anarbor, Between You And I

together on our favorite porch the sweat is sweeter if you can't remember i well then it never happens at all it's been to long since the last time that we got hug your bottle baby
and kiss away the sun goodbye
and say hello to the winter time forget about our last November and it's not that we cant remember it's that we can't forget secrets too close between us were too close between us and kiss away the sun goodbye
that i finally have the dreams you dream to the friends that became my family to every night that became the morning to the summer front porch days staring up at the mountain range no matter where we go no matter where we are red lights will always guide us home no matter where we go we bring the Arizona heat
no matter where we go we bring the Arizona heat
and kiss away
and kiss away
here's to all that we'll remember
