Anathema, Pitiless

Is it the emptiest of All your broken hearted feelings? A serious misconception To chose a path that led to ruin.

I live for today Can't get away from the burning inside. Ashes to ash. Dust to dust.

So quick to point the finger When you're the source of your condition. Why should I feel sympathy When you only show me nothing?

I live for today. Can't get away from the burning inside. Ashes to ash. Dust to dust.

I could stare for a thousand years. Penetrate your deepest fears. Leave you cold with a faceless embrace Then disappear without a trace!

I live for today Can't get away from the burning inside. Ashes to ash. Dust to dust.
