

Anberlin, The Feel Good Drug

"I'm here for you" she said
and we can stay for awhile,
my boyfriend's gone,
we can just pretend.

Lips that need no introduction
Now who's the greater sin,
Your drab eyes seem to invite (tell me darling) Where do we begin.

Was this over before
Before it ever began

Your kiss

Your calls

Your crutch

Like the devils got your hand

This was over before

Before it ever began

Your lips

Your lies

Your lust

Like the devils in your hands

Everyone in this town

is seeing somebody else

Everybody's tired of someone

our eyes wander for help

Prayers that need no answer now

I'm tired of who I am

You were my greatest mistake

I fell in love with your sin

Your littlest sin

Was this over before

Before it ever began

Your kiss

Your calls

Your crutch

Like the devils got your hand

This was over before

Before it ever began

Your lips

Your lies

Your lust

Like the devils in your hands

Failure is your disease

You want my outline drawn

You are my greatest failure

Discourse your saving song

Was this over before

Before it ever began

Your kiss

Your calls

Your crutch

Like the devils got your hand

This was over before

Before it ever began

Your lips

Your lies

Your lust

Like the devils in your hands

Was this over before

Before it ever began

Your kiss

Your calls

Your crutch

Like the devils got your hand

This was over before

Before it ever began
Your lips
Your lies
Your lust
Like the devils in your hands
