

And One, Consequence of time

We're going grey we're going frail like the walls the walls around us pictures of the past the telepho