And One, Paddy Is My DJ

It's Wednesday Night for those who can flee there's one place to go wich only the only can see My sparkling wine i'd never resist i guess that's only me just breathing the people i missed dont let this get over It's a perfect party to me couse he's dj tonight everybody's dancing he's even doing the light doing the light Swimming in a black, tight music pool paddy is my dj everybody's going to skip the school paddy is my dj

if i could pitch a tent right there a pillow and a blanket and a girl to share a bassdrum, toms and snare i would not care And if you're not fine with music he do no reason to leave couse paddy makes your wishes come true (sometimes, maybe, probably not) We enjoy the ride we melt into this floor it's easy to feel what he is living for (four, three, two, one) Swimming in a black... i wish you would be there
