

And One, Stand The Pain

what you did to me
i don't give up
i don't regret to be the one who kills you tenderly

you found a part of a key i locked the door
i dont prefer to be
a kind of poetry

i've got the power to see a story dies
before i start to flee
the only pain comes over me touched by the hands of lie i dont believe

and even if you die
it is a lie

you will lie
dont tell me i cant stand the pain you kissed that creatures in the rain dont tell me i cant stand the pain
dont tell me

now there's nothing to know once again
time for you to go
