

Anders Johansson, Meant To Fly

What will it feel like
How will it be without you
A sleepwalk in daylight
I stare at the sky like a fool
Clouds are descending from heaven
And rising again as you leave

You're fading towards the sky tonight
But don't be afraid when you see the light around
You'll be remembered
Heaven is waiting so goodbye
It's hard to believe when you see the signs, ohh why
That our angel was meant to fly

Thoughtless and empty
I'm now standing here like a ghost
Never been so defeated
As when destiny came back to gloat
I'm turning to life for some answers
Ohh why did you have to let go

You're fading towards the sky tonight
But don't be afraid when you see the light around
You'll be remembered
Heaven is waiting so goodbye
It's hard to believe when you see the signs, ohh why
That our angel was meant to fly

It's taking some time but I'll get by
Been borderline but I'll be fine
I know that you're watching me
I feel it in my sleep

You're fading towards the sky tonight
But don't be afraid when you see the light around
You'll be remembered
Heaven is waiting so goodbye
It's hard to believe when you see the signs, ohh why
That our angel was meant to fly

You're fading towards the sky tonight
But don't be afraid when you see the light around
You'll be remembered
Heaven is waiting so goodbye
It's hard to believe when you see the signs, ohh why
That our angel was meant to fly
